

SPAIN'S BEST DEVELOPERS AND ESTATE AGENTS

We proudly announce this year's winners of the Daily Mail Spanish Property Awards 2005. Following the success of 11 years of the Bentley International Property Awards, the need to recognise an awards system dedicated to Spain has become increasingly evident. Due to the continual rise in demand and growth in the Spanish property industry, these awards set out to identify the very best from a highly competitive field.

The winners of this year's Daily Mail Spanish Property Awards can be justly proud of their success having been chosen by a panel of independent judges.

Entries for 2006 can be made by contacting the awards team who will be happy to provide the entry criteria and offer advice and guidance.
